

Volume 20, Number 1 2011:

Special Issue
Criminalizing Women – Past and Present

Status: Available in January 2011

Pages: 156

PREFACE FROM THE MANAGING EDITORS

The Perpetual Harm of Imprisonment

Mike Larsen and Justin Piché

EDITOR’S INTRODUCTION

Criminalizing Women – Past and Present à

Jennifer M. Kilty

ARTICLES

Becoming Criminal: A Phenomenological Sketch of Criminal Identification

Anonymous

Political Imprisonment in Tehran

Marina Nemat

Commentary on Imprisonment, Prison Labour and Re-entry

Yraida Guanipa

A Dark Cloud, a Passing Cloud and Finally a Silver Lining:
A Story about Hope, Learning and Reintegration into Society

Lynne Elliott

On Mothering in Prison

Jennifer McMillan and Alison Granger-Brown

My Healing Journey

Sharon Acoose

Angels All around Me

D. Drummond

This is Who I Am:

Aboriginal Women’s Healing from Criminalization and Problematic Drug Use

Colleen Anne Dell, Valerie Desjarlais and Jennifer M. Kilty

Stopping the Real “Cycle of Violence”:

A Feminist Critique of Patriarchal Battering and the Criminalization of Women
by American Police

Cathy Marston

A New Direction for Federally Sentenced Women, Foiled Once Again

T. A. Glaremin

On Segregation

Renée Acoby

Women are the Fastest Growing Prison Population:
Why You Should Care.....

Debbie Kilroy and Kim Pate

Reflections of My First “Free” Prisoners’ Justice Day
“Petey”

RESPONSE

On Self-injurious Behaviour in Prison

Jennifer M. Kilty

After Prison: Experiences of Women and Employment in Québec, Canada

Véronique Strimelle and Sylvie Frigon

PRISONERS’ STRUGGLES

Introduction to the Organization

Continuité-famille auprès des détenues (CFAD) /

Family Continuity for Female Prisoners

Crossing Communities Art Project

Edith Regier and Colleen Anne Dell

BOOK REVIEW

The Mean Girl Motive by Nicole E. R. Landry

Reviewed by Leah DeVellis

COVER ART

“Reminder” (front) and “Pregnancy and Addiction” (back)

Jackie Traverse