25 Years of Convict Criminology

Grant Tietjen and J. Renee Trombley

Special Issue Editors

Grant Tietjen, PhD – Associate Professor, Criminal Justice, St. Ambrose University

J. Renee Trombley, PhD – Assistant Professor, Criminal Justice, Claflin University

Special Issue Theme

You are invited to submit a paper for possible inclusion in a special issue of the Journal of Prisoners on Prison, focused on “25 Years of Convict Criminology”, to be published in 2022. Convict Criminology (CC) associates and supporters, including current and former prisoners are encouraged to submit original papers to this special issue.

The edited collection on “25 Years of Convict Criminology” will include many voices and views concerning the past, present and future of CC and criminal justice. Papers submitted for peer-review should focus on Convict Criminology related topics, including:

- Future developments in Convict Criminology;
- Current issues impacting Convict Criminology;
- Past perspectives of Convict Criminology;
- International perspectives on Convict Criminology;
- Contributions of specific members of Convict Criminology;
- Inclusivity and diversity in Convict Criminology; or
- Other topics pertaining to the development of criminalization and punishment.

Paper Formats and Submission Guidelines

Prisoners and former prisoners, along with other co-authors (where applicable) are encouraged to submit papers, collaborative essays, discussions transcribed from tape, book reviews, and photo or graphic essays. All contributions must follow the journal’s submission guidelines (<http://www.jpp.org/submissions.html>):

- The Journal will not publish any subject matter that advocates hatred, sexism, racism, violence or that supports the death penalty.

- The Journal does not publish material that usually focuses on the writer's own legal case, although the use of the writer's personal experiences as an illustration of a broader topic is encouraged.
- The Journal does not usually publish fiction and does not generally publish poetry. Illustrations, drawings and paintings may be submitted as potential cover art.
- Articles should be no longer than 20 pages typed and double-spaced or legibly handwritten. Electronic submissions are gratefully received.
- Writers may elect to write anonymously or under a pseudonym.
- For references cited in an article, writers should attempt to provide the necessary bibliographic information. Refer to the references cited in past issues for examples.
- Editors look for developed pieces that address topics substantially. Manuscripts go through a preliminary reading and then are sent to review by the Editorial Board. Those that are of suitable interest are returned to the author with comments or suggestions. Editors work with writers on composition and form, and where necessary may help the author with referencing and bibliographic information, not readily available in prisons. Selected articles are returned to authors for their approval before publication. Papers not selected are returned with comments from the editor. Revised papers may be resubmitted.
- Please submit biographical and contact information, to be published alongside articles unless otherwise indicated.
